Dear Sabine:

I received your fax regarding my essay in the Biennial catalog. By the end of the first week of August, I meant this week -well the first draft is complete- I will finish the text on Friday. It will come back from the editor on Wednesday the 16th. You would receive a clean copy on Thursday the 17th. The essay will not be published in the States in this form, and it will not appear in any other publication before the Biennial Catalog comes out.

I look forward to hearing more news from you regarding the panels. There is a good chance that I will be in Kiev, Ukraine for a curators workshop between October 29 and November 2, and I postponed my Nov 9 lecture to the 16th. It may just be economical to fly me Kiev-Istanbul-NY.

Good luck and best regards

Vasif Kortun
